INSURANCE AGENTS TROUBLE.

Tries to do Business in the State Without Paying the License Imposed—Arrested and Jailed.

Several times during the present year insurance Commissioner Young has found it necessary to enforce the law in various ways pertaining to the conduct of his office Incendiaries have found it expedient to "apply the match and run" in order to escape his vigilance, and companies and agents attempting to do business in the State without license have been overtaken or run out of the state.

The representatives of one company, the Old Wayne Life Insurance Company, of Indianapolis, have given the department more trouble than all the others. Last spring there were several complaints from Dunn, Benson and other points, some in Johnson and Wilson counties, of the operations of agents of the Old Wayne, which is not licensed in this state and is regarded as a rank fraud, and Mr. Young got so warm on their trail that they gave it up and quit.

About a month ago information was filed with the Commissioner that the Old Wayne was again operating in the same section, through a man named Hassell. In some places he was known as C. R. Hassell, in others as C. W. Hassell and still others as C. I. Hassell. Occasionally he represented himself as an agent of the Equitable, but did not solicit business for that company. His operations were confined to the Old Wayne. It is charged that he collected money and delivered policies and in some instances took the money without delivering policies. He worked at Kenly, Rocky Mount, Hawra, Wilson, Rowland and Ashpole, the latter two places in Robeson county. Most of his work has been among the country people, and despite the fact several warrants have been out for him the past month he has shrewdly eluded the officers until this week.

On Tuesday Mr. Young located him at Rowland, near the South Carolina line, and went down to have him arrested He was found some distance from the town and was in bed with a man named McCormick and both had been drinking. Deputy Sheriff McLeod, armed with a warrant for C. W. Hassell, went to the house to get his man. Hassell claimed that he was not the man, saying his name was C. R. Hassell. Mr. Young was not far away and was communicated with. The officer was instructed to take the man. On the way to Rowland Hassell begged the deputy to walk with him a little distance into the woods where he claimed to have some whiskey hid, that he was nearly dead for a drink. The officer started with him but soon surmised the search for the hidden bottle to be a sham, and called a halt and a retreat. Hassell was then suddenly attacked with heart trouble and lay down in the woods. The attack of heart trouble was a bluff which did not work.

It was then up to the deputy, who is a small man, while Hassell is a two hundred pounder. The deputy stuck to his job and as he could not make the man walk he dragged him a short distance and called for help. Assistance finally came, and Hassell was carried to Rowland. Mr. Young there took him in charge and Wednesday night turned him over to the sheriff of Johnson county, where he awaits a preliminary hearing. Mr. E. W. Pou will represent the state and Mr. Ed. S. Abell will appear for Hassell. The preliminary hearing will take place at Kenley next Monday.

Mr. Young says Hassell a shrewd fellow, apparently about fifty years old. It is recalled that a "Doctor" Hassell figured in the noted graveyard swindling cases in Carteret county a few years ago. It is not at all improbable that the man Mr. Young now has under arrest is the same individual. When arrested this man said his name was C. R. Hassell, and if memory is not greatly at fault, Dr. C. R. Hassell is the name of the noted swindler who was connected with the gigantic plot to rob insurance companies by insuring men already on the brink and some who were actually in the grave. If this is the same man he has already served a term in the penitentiary.—Post November 2nd.

Insurance Commissioner James R. Young was notified Monday afternoon that at the preliminary hearing at Kenly, "Dr." C. R Hassell waived examination before Justice E. G. Barnes and was held in a $500 bond for the next term of Johnston county Superior Court.

COUNCIL HANGED.

Declares his Innocence to the Last—Dramatic Incident at the Hanging.

Lewis Council, the negro convicted on a charge of assaulting Mrs. James West, was hanged at Fayetteville Saturday morning. Before the black cap was adjusted Council took a cross from the hand of Father Marion, his spiritural adviser, and said:

"Before God and man, I am innocent."

The priest then held the cross aloft; exclaiming:

"Before this assembly and the whole state, in spite of Governor Aycock's action, I declare Lewis Council an innocent man."

The sheriff sprung the trap but the rope broke and the negro fell to the ground. With wonderful nerve Council walked back up the steps to the scaffold, a new loop was quickly made in the rope and he was hanged again. The governor had thrice respited Council.

COOD ROAD BUILDING.

Practical Demonstration and Good Talks on This Line at Forsyth County Fair.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 1.—The State Good Roads Congress opened in the court house this morning, the court room being filled with citizens and visitors, the latter representing this and many other counties throughout the State. The convention was called to order by county Commissioner P. H. Hanes. Prayer was offered by Bishop Rondthaler. Hearty addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Eaton and W. A. Blair, followed by a stirring response by Secretary Richardson of the National Good Roads Association.

In the absence of Governor Aycock, who will make his address tomorrow, Senator Simmons opened the congress with a formal address which was strong and sensible. Perhaps the most hearty applause he received was when he declared that the State government of North Carolina ought to quit trying to farm and devote all the energies and labor of its convicts to the betterment of the public roads of the State, this work to be supplemented by the aid of cities, counties, townships, communities and individuals.

At the conclusion of Senator Simmons timely address a temporary organization was perfected by the election of P. H. Hanes president and W. A. Blair secretary. Postmaster Reynolds followed Senator Simmons, and represented Senator Pritchard, who was unavoidably detained at Madison court. Mr. Reynolds made a strong and practical speech. He endorsed the views expressed by Senator Simmons, and especially his statement that State convicts should be worked on the roads instead of farms.

Capt. W. A. Hayes, representing the Southern Railway, gave a practical talk on the great advantage to a community of reducing the cost of freighting products, and said the reason the railroads were making better earnings now than formerly was because they had devoted their earning for the past five years to lowering grades of their track so that the expense of hauling would be less per mile. He said he had just left Buffalo, where his mission was to convince people of the North that in the South was their hope for the solution of the agricultural problem; that with as rich soil as New York, better climate for all crops and cheaper lands, the South was the garden spot of the universe. He spoke of the first inquiries being about the condition of the roads.

Good progress was made today in the work of macadamizing Liberty street road. This afternoon, in the presence of a large crowd, demonstrations of road building were made by President Moore and Secretary Richardson, of the National Association; Mr. M. O. Eldridge, government road expert; State Geologist J. A. Holmes and others.

At the night session of the congress stirring and practical addresses were made by President W. H. Moore and others Prof. J. A. Holmes spoke and his address was magnificently illustrated with stereopticon views.

FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

A District Association Formed With Allied Societies in a Dozen Counties.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 2.—The Good Roads Congress closed with today's session. The report of the committee on permanent organization was unanimously adopted. It recommends the organization of the Northwestern Good Roads Association of North Carolina, with an office located at Winston-Salem; membership to consist of citizens of counties of Forsyth, Guilford, Davidson, Yadkin, Davie, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry, Wilkes, Ashe and Alleghany. The officers of the association are to consist of a president and one vice-president from each county in said district and a secretary and treasurer and an executive committee, to composed of the president, a secretary and treasurer and two members of the association to be named by the president of each county is charged with the duty of organizing a county good roads asso iation in his own county, which shall have for its object the promotion of the good roads movement in that county.

The annual meetings of the district associati n are to be at Winston-Salem on the second Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year.

The committee recommended the following as officers of the association to serve until the regular annual meeting in 1902.

President, P. H. Hanes; secretary and treasurer, O. B. Eaton; vice-president—Forsyth county, J. S. Spease, Vienna; Guilford, J. Van Lindler, Greensboro; Yadkin, N. G. Williams, Williamsr; Davie, C. G. Bailey. Advance; Rockingham, Thos. R. Pratt, Madison; Stokes, Dr. Elias Fulp, Fulp; Surry, A. Chathem, Elkin; Wilkes, E. S. Blair, Wilkesboro; Alleghany, Hon. R. A. Doughton, Sparta; Ashe, Dr. Colverd, Jefferson.

Timely and effective addresses were made by Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson, President Winston, of the A. and M. College; M. O. Eldridge, of the government office of road inquiry, and Gov. Aycock.

Dr. Winston spoke in favor of establishing graded schools in country districts and said: "Good roads means good schools, good libraries and free rural deliveries."

Governer Aycock said the education of the children in North Carolina stood next with him, but he hardly endorsed the good roads movement, adding; "Good roads cost good money, but I want to assure you that good roads will pay back good money with big interest."

PRESIDENTS PROCLAMATION.

Designating Thursday Nov. 28th as a Day of Thanksgiving.

Washington, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt's thanksgiving proclamation was made public todsy. It is as follows:

By the President of the United States of America:

A PROCLAMATION.

The season is nigh when, according to the time-honored custom of our people, the president appoints a day as the especial occasion for praise and thanksgiving to God.

This thanksgiving finds the people still bowed with sorrow for the death of a great and good president. We mourn President McKinley because we so loved and honored him, and the manner of his death should awaken in the breasts of our people a keen anxiety for the country and at the same time a resolute purpose not to be driven by any calamity from the path of strong, orderly, popular liberty which, as a nation, we have thus for safely trod.

Yes, in spite of this great disaster, it is nevertheless true that no people on earth have such abundant cause for thanksgiving as we have. The past year in particular has been one of peace and plenty. We have prospered in things material and have been able to work for own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us, and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and at this time each of us does his duty to his fellow men.

Now, I therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the 28th of this present November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their wonted occupations, and at their several homes and places of worship reverently thank the Giver of all good for the countless blessings of our national life.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal to the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 2nd day of November, in the year of Our Lord 1901, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

By the President,

JOHN HAY, Secretary of State

Captive Balloon Escapes.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—A captive balloon, in which were seven men and one woman, broke loose from its fastening late this afternoon as the rope was being drawn in, and floated away. It was seen by thousands as it soared up to a height of a mile or more and then drifted southwest towards Santa Clara county. The balloon escaped at 4:30, and at 6 o'clock news came from La Honda, in San Mateo county, twenty-nine miles from San Francisco, that the balloon had descended there in Uaskell Ranch.

The balloon landed six miles from Pescadora, on the coast, fifty miles from here. All the members of the party were rescued.

Roosevelt to Press Button.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt was today invited to attend the South Carolina, Interstate and West Indian Exposition to be held in Charleston beginning December 2nd. The President said that he would attend if public business would permit. The committee told the President that he could set his own date, but suggested February 12, Lincoln's birthday. This caught the President's attention and he said he would attend on that day if possible. The President promised to open the exposition on December 2 by touching a button in the White House.

Edward S. Stokes Dead.

New York, Nov. 2.—Edward S. Stokes, who shot Jim Fisk, died at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Howard McNutts, at 731 St. Nicholas avenue, after an illness of two months. Brights disease was the cause of death.

Col. Cody has offered to accept $65,000 from the Southern Railway in full of the losses sustained in the wreck near Lexington. It is not known whether the Southern will pay that amount.

A DEEP MYSTERY.

It is a mystery why women endure backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50 cents.

THE CENSUS REPORT.

On School, Militia and Voting Ages for all States and Territories.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Census report on school, militia and voting ages for all States and territories shows the following summary for the country as a whole:

Persons of school age, 5 to 20 years 26,110,788, of whom 24,897,130 are native born, 22,490,211 are white and 13,086,160 are males; males of militia are 16,360,363, of whom 13,132,280 are native born and 14,475,396 are white; and males of voting age, 21,329,819, of whom 16,227,285 are native born and 19,036,143 are white.

Of the total number of males 21 years of age and over, 2,326,295 are illiterate. Of the 16,227,285 native born males 21 years old and over, 1,706,293 are illiterate, and of the 5,102,534 foreign born 620,002 are illiterate.

Native white males of voting age who are of foreign parentage show a relative increase in their proportion since 1890, while the colored males of voting age have increased throughout the northern and western sections, with a few exceptions like California, where there has been large decrease in Chinese population.

In many Southern States, especially Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana, the colored element of voting age shows decreased proportion.

A little over 28 per cent of the entire alien population of the country is illiterate.

Bryan on White House Dinner.

Washtgton Post.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—In his Commoner of to-morrow W. J. Bryan devotes a page and a half to the Roosevelt-Washington White House dinner incident. He says, in part:

"The action of President Roosevelt in inviting Prof. Booker T. Washington to dine at the White House was unfortunate, to say the least. It will give deptn and acrimony to a race feeling already strained to the utmost. The race question, so far as it concerns our colored population, presents itself in four phases: First, the legal right of the black man; second, his educational opportunities; third, his political privileges, and fourth, his social status."

Mr. Bryan argues that the negro enjoys all these privileges except political, which is partially curtailed, and social. He concludes by saying:

"The President may have invited Mr. Washington without considering the question that it raises, and Mr. Washington may have accepted from feeling that an invitation from the President was equivalent to a command. It is to be hoped that both of them will, upon reflection, realize the wisdom of abandoning their purpose to wipe out race lines if they entertain such a purpose.

"Professor Washington's work as an educator will be greatly impaired if he allows it to be understood that his object is to initiate the members of his race into the social clubs of the whites, and he will do injustice to those of his own color if he turns their thoughts away from intellectual and moral developments to the less substantial advantages."

Drunkenness in Cities.

Before the Society for the Study of Inebriety in London, a few days ago, an English physician took the view that because the reported arrests for drunkenness in a year in London, Chicago and New York were, respectively seven, thirteen and twenty three a thousand, therefore there was much more intoxication in Chicago, in proportion to population, than in London, and much more in New York than in either of the other two cities. This is a preposterous inference, and it is amazing that a medical man supposed to be intelligent should draw such a conclusion.

In some cities the police are extremely lax in making arrests for drunkenness when the drunkards are not guilty of serious breaches of the peace. In other cities they are rigorous and energetic in making such arrests. The suggestion that New York is almost twice as bad as Chicago in alcoholic excesses and more than three times as bad as London is too absurd to merit discussion.—N. Y. Tribune.

UNION OF THE CHURCHES.

Methodist Bishops Will Consider the Question When They Meet at Chattanooga.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Bishop Goodsell, presided at the morning session today of the Methodist bishops. It was decided to hold the next semi-annual conference at Chattanooga at which time closer relations and the final union of the churches North and South will be further considered.

Dr. James M. King, who was the first assistant of the late Dr. Spencer, of Atlanta, was elected corresponding secretary of the Church Extension Society with headquarters at Philadelphia. Dr. King's successor will not be named until next week.

TOT CAUSES NIGHT ALARM.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky." "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's Discovery which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." SCHLEY COURT.

The Sessions Will Close This Week Court Will Then Pass Upon the Testimony—Will be Many Weeks Before Courts Verdict May be Reached.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Judge Advocate Lemly announced at 12:35 p. m. to-day that he had no witnesses to call, and then Mr. Rayner followed him, saying that no witnesses would be summoned on behalf of Admiral Schley in surrebuttal. For a moment it appeared as if the now famous case was about to reach a sudden conclusion. But this delusion was soon dissipated by the announcement on the part of Captain Lemly that he might ask to be allowed to bring in one more witness on Monday, and also a statement from Mr. Rayner that Admiral Schley would himself desire to return to the stand on Monday to correct errors in his evidence as officially reported. There is a probability that the admiral will consume considerable time in going over the printed record of what he said, and there also is an understanding that he will make some additions to his former statements. But it is not believed that beyond what he may have to say there will be much more testimony taken in the case. The only witness that the judge advocate still has in mind is Lieutenant Strauss, and Captain Lemly said today that if the lieutenant's attendance could be secured he would detain the court for a short time only. Captain Sigsbee also will return to the stand Monday to make corrections in the testimony given yesterday by him. These details completed, the argument of counsel will be begun, and then counsel and the public will withdraw and leave the court to it deliberations.

The task before the court is not a light one, and it may be weeks before the final verdict will be reached. How long the court may take to consider the evidence is entirely problematical. The members of the tribunal are evidently preparing to devote considerable time to the consideration of the testimony, for they have taken rooms in the city for this purpose. The testimony covers 1,600 printed pages and the court sat 36 days in listening to it. With the additions yet to be made in the way of argument and documents, the record probably will run over 1,700 pages.

Admiral Schley was in the court room half an hour before proceedings began, but he announced that he would not be able to undertake the correction of his testimony before next Monday. "There were five whole days of it," he said, "and to go over it and make the necessary corrections is not a light task." It is probable that he will have something more to say concerning his interview on May 18, with Admiral Sampson, relative to which Captain Chadwick spoke yesterday.

To-day's witnesses were Sylvester Scovel, a former newspaper correspondent who saw service in the Cuban campaigh; Lieutenant Hood, who commanded the Hawk during the Spanish war, and also a number of officers who were heard yesterday and who returned to the stand to correct testimony. The court held only one session and adjourned over until Monday. The attendance upon the court to-day was the smallest since the sessions began.

Washington, Nov. 4 —The chief feature of today's session of the court of inquiry was a decision which the court rendered in regard to the admission of evidence. It was practically the first material decision which has been adverse to Admiral Schley since the inquiry began. It excluded evidence of the utmost importance to the applicant. The testimony, had it been admitted, would have shown conclusively the reason for the retrograde movement upon which Sampson based his charge of reprehensible conduct

In substance the decision of the court is this: That the statement of a witness as to a conversation he may have had cannot be contradicted by another witness, provided Admiral Schley did not hear the conversation.

Testimony of this character has upon several occasions, been admitted, notably in the case of Mr. Graham, Mr. Hare, Mr. Scovel, and a large number of others, not only in regard to Captain Sigsbee's declaration that the Spanish fleet was not in Santiago, but also affecting other conversations. While this testimony remains upon the record the testimony of a similar character offered today was excluded.

Mr. Hanna Opens the Argument.

Mr. Hanna then began his argument of the case, the first which the court is to hear. He prefaced his remarks by saying that he would endeavor to do two things—first, to be brief and terse; second, to give a careful and exhaustive review of the testimony and a reference to the important points which it embraced. Mr. Hanna referred to the fact that, owing to the scope of the inquiry, the testimony had been voluminous, and declared that this was perhaps the most important inquiry ever held.

London, Nov. 1.—Lord Kitchener has reported to the War Office a disaster to the British near Bethel, eastern Transvaal, in which two guns were lost, several officers killed and wounded, and fifty-four men were killed and 160 wounded.

ANTI-TOXIN CAUSES LOCKJAW.

Eleven Children die From the Administration of the Medicine—The Anti-Toxin was Manufactured by St. Louis Chemist.

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—The list of deaths attributed to lockjaws as a result of the administration of diphtheria anti-toxin, manufactured by the city chemist, now numbers eleven, two more deaths being reported today. Eleven other children are reported to the health department as suffering from lockjaws with slight chances of recovery. The cause of lockjaw in each case is said to be poisoning from the city's diphtheria anti-toxid. The health department has now begun the free distaibution of tetanus anti-toxin for injection into the blood of diphtheria patients who have been inoculated with the infected serum and thus exposed to lockjaw.

The health department has announced that no more diphtheria anti-toxin will be manufactured by the city of St. Louis. The investigation ordered by the city coroner to determine positively the cause of the deaths of the eight children who are alleged to have died of lockjaw following the administration of the city's anti-toxin, is being pushed and it is expected it will be completed in a few days. Drs. Boloton, Fish and Waldron, three of the most experienced bacteriologists in St. Louis, are making tests with the anti-toxin and the serum taken from the spinal columns of the dead children. Dr. Rabold, city bacteriologist, who made the anti-toxin complained of, from serum taken from a horse which developed tetanus on October 1st, and was shot, declares that if the animal's system contained tetanus baccilli on August 24th, when the last serum was taken from it, it was impossible to detect it by an inspection of the horse.

At the Baptist Hospital an independent investigation has convinced Drs A. B. Nichols, R. C. Harris and C. C. Morris that the presence of tetanus germs in the city anti-toxin is indisreputable. A guinea pig was inoculated with the anti-toxin Wednesday night, developed symptoms of lockjaw Thursday morning and died today.

THE TROUBLE ABOUT MISS STONE.

Some Fears That She and Her Companion May be Murdered After the Ransom is Paid.

Sofia, Nov. 1.—The best method of transmitting the ransom demanded by the brigands for the release of Miss Stone, the abducted American missionary, and of assuring the safety of the captives, are the matters now engaging the attention of the Samkoay missionaries, who are negotiating with the kidnappers. It is felt that unusual precautions are necessary in order to safeguard Miss Stone and the others, as there undoubtedly is danger that the captives will be murdered after the ransom is paid.

Fears Entertained That Miss Stone Will Have to be Sacrificed.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The case of Miss Stone has become more serious. The brigands, it appears, are still holding out for the £25,000 ransom and it is feared that, should they persist in their demand, Miss Stone will have to be sacrificed. Nevertheless, the negotiations are still proceeding. Anxiety prevails at the United States legation this evening, whence there has been an active exchange of telegrams between Secretary Eddy and various points.

Mr. Eddy to-day had a long conference with Sir Nicholas R. O'Connor, the British ambassador here, who is actively assisting in the efforts to bring about Miss Stone's release.

Postal Development.

Postal development, as reflected in the finances of the department, is proceeding with rapid strides. The revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, was a little over $102,350,000, and for the ending June 30 last it amounted to $111,631,193. For the current fiscal year it is expected to be over $121,000,000, and for the next fiscal year a total in excess of $132,000,000 is looked for, while the Postmaster General is going to ask for appropriations to the amount of $135,885,596. The growth of the business done by the department is, of course, more strikingly illustrated if comparison be made with a time long prior to this. In his annual report Auditor Castle institutes such a comparison. He points out that in 1836, the year in which his office was established as an independent institution, the total financial transactions were less than $6,000,000, while the aggregate of such transactions for the year 1901 was over $803,000,00, this total including the revenue and expenditures and the amount of money orders issued and paid —Bradstreets.

ROOSEVELT ON TRUSTS.

Regulation and not Prevention is all that is Sought by Intelligent Persons.

Globe-Democrat, (Rep.)

The general assumption that President Roosevelt's message at the opening of Congress a month hence will contain a vigorous expression on the question of the trusts will probably be shown to be well founded While he was Vice-President Col. Roosevelt dealt with the trust question in several speeches, particularly in one delivered a few days before the assassination. He took the ground that the trusts ought to be controlled by the government, State or national, in some of their operations. He also said that publicity for the work of the trusts should be insisted upon. Similar views are likely to be expressed in the message.

All this will meet the favor of the country. In its general phase consolidation in business activities cannot be prevented, and ought not to be prevented if it could be. This principle of concentration is at work in all forms of activity—among labor societies as well as among all the great industries and interests. It is part of the general evolution of society, and will continue. The growth of capital, of inventive skill, and of command over the forces of nature incites the extension of the general principle of co-operation into all sorts of activities. Organization is the rule with employes as well as with employers, and in all fields of enterprise.

A general assault on the principle of concentration in the great activities would do much more harm than it could do good. Regulation and not prevention is all that is sought by intelligent persons. This can be effected by legislation either Congressional or State. This, unboubtedly, is what President Rootevelt will recommend. Public opinion is strongly in favor of carefully framed legislation which will force the trusts to give a certain degree of publicity to their operations and which will put all the great combinations under a certain degree of supervision and control by the country. There is no partesanship in this issue. The Republicans were earlier in the field than the Democrats in urging governmental supervision of the trusts. They secured legislation by Congress against the trusts as far back as 1890, in an act signed by President Harrison. Whatever can be done and ought to done toward bringing the trusts into proper control by the government will be achieved by the Republican party.

Outdone by the Darky.

From the Chicago News.

Admiral Evans, in his interesting autobiography, "A Sailor's Log," relates an amusing anecdote of Capt. Trenchard, who, when he commanded the Rhode Island, had a very accomplished steward, a colored man who had become so expert in catching flies off the captain's bald head that the captain was never annoyed by them. "Admiral Lardner," says Admiral Evans, "had for his steward a large, heavy-handed Irishman, who watched the colored man with great envy while his master, undisturbed, enjoyed his meals. Pat's master thrashed at the flies and swore roundly as they lighted on his close cropped hair. The colored man went on catching flies with a quick, dexterous movement of his right hand, until Pat could stand it no longer. Drawing back he made a vicious swing at a fly, but, instead of catching it, he caught the admiral an awful blow on the back of the head. The admiral, thinking there was a muting, grabbed the carving knife and made after Patrick, who retreated to the spar deck, and there was a hurdle race fore and aft—the officer of the deck and the orderly trying to catch the admiral, who was doing his best to put the carving, knife in the back of Patrick, who finally escaped but never bothered any more about flies on the admiral's head."

CHURCH IN THE CAMPAIGN.

Thirty-one New York Preachers Discuss Politics in Pulpits.

New York, Nov. 3.—The feature of the local political campaign today was the active part taken in it by the pastors of the churches. Thirty-one pastors, clergymen and two leaders of independent church societies, advertised themselves to speak on the issues of the election, and all took for their subjects the alleged maladministration of the present city officers.

Rabbi Schulman, the one Jewish priest whose sermon was reported, urged upon his hearers the support of the fusion ticket because of the revelations concerning vice in the tenement districts.

All the protestant pastors reported, except two, talked for the fusion ticket, asserting that vice and unsanitary conditions exist here, and that a change is needed. The exceptions were Dr. David G. Wylie, of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Dr. Nan De Water, of St Andrew's Episcopal Church, who advised their congregations to examine the two tickets closely and vote for the best men on them. Henry Frank, of the Metropolitan Independent Church, advised his hearers to vote "against bosses whether they come from this city or Tioga County." Rev. Father J. Ducey, of St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church, was alone among those reported who spoke on the election for the Shepard side.

The Governor has ordered a special civil term of two weeks court in Pitt county, beginning December 9th, to be held by Judge Winston. This is the second special term in that county this year, and Judge Winston was assigned to hold it because of the request of the county officers and members of the bar.

Three large timber syndicates have acquired large interests in the Weldon section. One of these will next year build a railway for Weldon by way of Brinkleyville and Ringwood, to some point in the edge of Franklin county, distance about thirty miles, to get at 500,000,000 feet of short-leaf pine timber. The three concerns are the Commer, the G. L. Vincent and the Camp Manufacturing Company.—News and Observer.

Mysterious Shooting.

Weldon, N. C., Nov. 2.—James Scoggin, who was here in charge of the broken neck horse at the fair, was shot in the small of the back last night near town, and it is feared that his wound may prove fatal. He came here from Petersburg, but formerly lived in Warren county. There is a mystery about the affair which remains to be solved.

Murder and Suicide.

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 2.—Today noon, in his bar room in Goldsboro's street, Wade Aycock was shot and immediately killed by his clerk, George Gay. Ed. Killett was having a settlement with Aycock, when Gay came up to them and said, "Ed. haven't you always found me straight," and being told that he had, Gay replied: "Well, Wade says I am no, and, damn him, I am going to kill him." He then drew his pistol and shot Aycock dead. Gay then turned the pistol to his own bosom and shot himself, inflicting a very serious wound.

BUFFALO EXPOSITION CLOSES.

The Pan-American a Colossal Failure and Financial loss $4,000,000.

Buffalo, Nov. 2.—Standing at the triumphal bridge at midnight, John G. Milburn pressed the electric button which extinguished the lights at the Pan American exposition for the last time. Around Mr. Milburn were the men and women who as managers, investors and employes had worked for the success of the fair only to result in a loss of over $4,000,000. The stockholders sustain a complete loss; the holders of the second mortgage bonds go no return, while the holders of the first mortgage bonds recover 80 per cent. of their investment. The contractors will lose $1,000,000. On Monday bids will be opened for the wrecking of the buildings.

The News From Billville.

There are no candidates for governor in our midst, though many are running—with the sheriff close behind 'em.

There was a big fight at Everlasting Peace on Tuesday evening. The Legislature will be asked to change the name of that town next year.

Our relatives are arriving on every train to spend Christmas with us, notwithstanding we sent one of them an almanac the first of the year.

The body of Major Jones was cremated last week, and his widow now has him safely corked up in a fruit jar. She says it is the last of the family jars.

The days are so still now when a silver dollar falls on the pavement it rings as loud as a fire alarm. But very few are fool enough to let one fall.

There have been charges of political bribery in this settlement, but they are without foundation. We take no bribes—simply borrow $5 from a man, then ask him what office he's running for.—Atlanta Constitution.

Gee Whiz!

Toledo Globe.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan made the journey from Detroit to Niagara Falls over the Michigan Central Railway, 227 miles, in 200 minutes the other day. Between St. Thomas and Falls View station a speed of eighty miles an hour was occasionally reached. When a railway director shows such perfect confidence in his roadbed the traveling public, which does not go at such headlong speeds, may feel reasonably safe.

CURED OF ASTHMA.

After 35 Years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to the Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Randolph Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y. who says:—"Your remedy, (Schiffman's Ashtma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of our druggist and tried it and one box entirely cured me of asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health, that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues."

TWO VIEWS OF TRUSTS.

A great deal of comment has recently been called forth in the public press by the address of Judge Brewer, of the Supreme Court of the United States, at the bicentennial celebration of Yale University. Referring to what is known as the trust question, Judge Brewer lays down the proposition that "the great forces of industry, business and politics seem passing under the dominance of single, central control." Judge Brewer then goes on to say that "you cannot stay this movement toward consolidation and centralization. It is natural evolution. Injunction against strikers will not stop it; legislation against trusts will not. Attempting to stay the movement of its chariot wheels by injunction or by statute is lunacy compared with which Dame Partington's effort to stop the Atlantic with a broom was supreme wisdom."

In rather bold contrast to the remarks of Judge Brewer is the address made a few days later by Henry Wade Rogers on assuming a professorship at the same university. After adverting to the modern tendency toward consolidation and concentration and tracing the movement back to ancient Rome, Prof. Rogers said:

"The power which private corporations possess and their capacity for mischief are so boundless that serious men have realized the absolute necessity for the protection of society.

Take, by way of example, the railroad corporations. It is within their power to construct the industrial map of the United States. Railroad rates have become the air in which industries breathe. The railroads by the rates they make can decide whether the butter consumed in New York State or Michigan or Ohio; whether Western merchants who buy their goods in New York City shall have an advantage over those who buy them in Boston or Philadelphia.

Time was, if it is not still, when the railroads could dictate not merely where industries could be carried on, but by whom.

Take the case of the Standard Oil Company. It certainly is no secret that the great monopoly it possesses was built up by discrimination in freight rates made by the railroad companies upon the demand of the Standard Oil Company in order to crush the independent refiners. In the course of a year and a half the company received or was said to have received from the railroads ten millions of dollars in rebates."

The railroad corporations are the most powerful aggregations of capital in existence. Because of their peculiar charater and the dependence which all other industries must have upon them, they occupy a commanding position and are able to dictate the terms upon which they will allow business to be done. Prof. Rogers points this fact out very graphically when he tells how it is in the power of the railroads to decide whether butter consumed in New York City shall be produced in New York State or Michigan or Ohio. This power is a hundred fold accentuated by reason of the fact that the railroads are all being brought under a single control, thus destroying the saving grace of competion.

Judge Brewer says this state of affairs is the product of natural evolution which legislation against trusts will not prevent. Prof. Rogers, however, quotes with approval a speech made by the lamented McKinley a few months ago in Minneapolis in which he said:

"More and more it is evident that the State has got to possess the right of supervision and control."

We do not hesitate as to which view of the matter to accept. The formation of the steel trust, the railroad trust, the sugar trust, the oil trust, and all other trusts may be due to natural evolution, but if such be the case it is high time that the State was doing a little "evoluting" on its own account in order to keep up with the procession. In what way can the State exercise the right of "Supervision and Control" in so effectual a manner as by owning and itself operating the railroad systems of the country? Such an arrangement would be the greatest corrective agency that could be employed. Under it railroad rates would be alike to all making it impossible for the railroads to build up one man's business to the destruction of another's, and taking away to a large extent the necessity for combination.

The trust question is live, it is vital, and it demands attention and attempt at solution. The nearer we arrive at a true solution the closer must we come to government ownership of railroads.

THE WHITE HOUSE DINNER ONCE MORE.

In all the range of discussion provoked by the Booker Washington dinner incident we have seen few more sensible utterances than an editorial article in the Charleston Messenger, one of the best known negro publications in the South. After stating that harm has come from the incident, the Messenger goes on to add:

"The harm that has been accomplished springs from the race prejudice and political animosities which have been excited The public feeling of the South toward the negro was never better than it has been within the last two or three years, and it may be remarked in passing that Mr. Washington himself has been a conspicuous instrument in the development of this condition of things. He has been accepted by the white people, no less than by the negroes, as the chief exponent of the relationship which should exist between the two races at the present time. It is questionable whether the injury done his influence with the whites of the South by the White House dinner will not overbalance any credit that he may have acquired from it for himself and with his own people.

"We honor President Roosevelt for the personal liberality of thought and high sense of public duty which actuated him in issuing the invitation to Mr. Washington. Had Mr. Washington declined to accept it because of the strife acceptance of it would arouse; because of his unwillingness to accept the hospitality which might prove injurious to his host; because a self-respecting negro man, as any other gentleman should never be willing to go where he is admitted purely upon sufferance—if we say Mr. Washington had declined to accept the President's invitation because of these things he would have achieved for himself and for his race a victory in public opinion besides which the present notoriety being given him would have been but a small and inconsiderable thing."

In order that the best interests of the white race as well as those of the colored race may be conserved it is necessary that the relationship between the two should be as free as possible from animosity and suspicion. As the Messenger observes, the past two or three years have been particularly happy in bringing about an approximation at least to this condition.

Anything tending to destroy or impair this balance is distinctly a set back, and the dining of Booker Washington at the White House cannot be viewed in any other light. Its effect has been—as must necessarily have been the case to arouse the feeling of distrust and suspicion with which the white men of the South perforce must view any movement which smacks of social equality between the races. The dinner incident has opened up old sores which were mending and has caused new ones to break out which it will be hard to heal.

Booker Washington perhaps has done more to increase the respect of the white race for the negro and has contributed more to the general betterment of the feeling between the two races than any other man. We agree with the Messenger, however, that he would have done himself vastly more credit and his race infinitely more good by refusing to partake of the gastronomic specialties of a house which is called "White," but which really knows no color.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Governor Aycock Named November 28th to be Observed.

State of North Carolina
Executive Department.

God reigns at all times and every where. He is our comfort in every hour of sorrow and our strength in every day of weakness. In this year the nation was startled by the death of its President at the hands of an assassin. He has given us strength to continue our form of government without friction or danger, and has thereby made it incumbent upon us to turn towards him in hours of trial, and those who turn to Him always find strength. It is needful, therefore, and proper that we should set aside at least one day in the year in which to express our gratitute to Him for past favors and invoke His aid for the future.

I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, therefore issue this my proclamation, setting apart Thursday, November 28th, inst., as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, upon which day I urge all people to meet in their respective places of worship and there thank God for the manifold mercies which He has shown to us individually and as a people, and to ask for His protection and guidance in the future. I earnestly recommend that on this day all our people shall give as God has prospered unto those who are needy, particularly to the widows and the orphans.

Done at our city of Raleigh, this the 5th day November, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-sixth year of our American Independence.

CHARLES B. AYCOCK.

THE RALEIGH CLIQUE WHIPPED.

Ado to Talk of Osborne's Appointment as the Entering Wedge of a Dissolved South.

To the Editor of The Charlotte Observer:

In the old days the President might have made an appointment in the judicially from the citizenship of North Carolina without other comment—and that a confirmed—than common congratulation upon the compliment done the State.

It is wholly otherwise now, partly from increased greed for place, partly from the growth of the Athenian custom among us of continuing telling or hearing something new. In the case of Frank I. Osborne, recently made a judge by the new and progressive President, the local politicians in every town have seemingly arrayed themselves into little sewing school circles of fiction made of enthusiastic applauders of mild milky dissidents.

The Raleigh clique, whipped out of their boots, in this venture, stifle their moans; though a week ago they were loud in denouncing Bill Bynumism and the ills likely to come to them from a selection for the Fuller vacancy made at other dictation than that of eastern tidewater

It is consoling to some of us that a domination without relish in State matters finds itself powerless beyond Weldon Mr. Roosevelt has made some friends and Senator Pritchard has risen in public esteem by an act graceful in itself and carrying grief to the great men who have escaped from the longleaf pine region.

Mr. Osborne is the man who flung defiance to the future and did his duty by the hour in the impeachment trial of Furches and Douglas. He is now a judge himself largely because his political opponents appreciate brains and fairness and think statesmanship something other than successful management of Sunday schools.

It is idle to talk of this appointment as an entering wedge to a dissolved South in politics. Mr. Roosevelt would perhaps be the first to smile over such an extreme induction from so slight a base; but it is a marked pointer of good will to such among us as own their own souls, and decline obedience to a management which bereft of forethought, fairness and snap, claims the household virtue of common honesty and compares itself favorably, not with any opposition now existing, but with the lowest days of the carpet-bag era, dead and buried a whole generation ago.

If there be satisfaction in such self-petting, if the applause for it which comes up from certain well marked quarters of the State is compensation for a thoroughly disgusted constituency, who have witnessed the negro domination cry turned into a reproach and see the live men of the State with eyes averted from the Raleigh machine, why let lookers-on like this writer be content. He has seen the end of other machines; he may live to see the end of Joe Daniels' and Judge Clarke's machine. NOT BLOOMSBURY.

MARCH AND THE LION.

SOMETHING BETTER THAN THE OLD SAW.

The saying about the lion and the lamb in March often prove false, but there is another one and a better one which is literally true When March comes in and finds you taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify, enrich and vitalize your blood, you may expect, when it goes out, that it will leave you free from that tired feeling and with none of the boils, pimples and eruptions which manifest themselves because of impure blood in the spring. If you have not already begun taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for your spring medicine, we advise you to begin today We assure you it will make you feel better all through the coming summer.

"Mr. L. P. Bailey, whose health was impaired and who always felt tired and haggard, by my persuasion, began to use Peruna about a month ago, and now he looks like a different man. He says he feels 100 per cent. better." N. C. May.

Those desiring a free book on the cause of nerve weakness, anæmia and other devitalizing diseases should address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Charles Newman, 174 Loomis street, Chicago, Ill., writes the following in regard to Peruna. Mr. Newman says:

"I took one bottle of your wonderful medicine and have so improved that I feel like a new person. I am very thankful that I got hold of your wonderful remedy. I cannot say too much in your behalf. I had doctored for two years until I felt there was no relief.

"My wife has taken one bottle of your grand medicine and it has helped her so much. I find it has improved her health so much that I will recommend it to anyone cheerfully."

Yours gratefully,
Charles Newman.

Nervous Depression.

The month of July is peculiarly the month of nervous diseases, especially nervous prostration and other depressed states of the nervous system. People who are at all inclined to be nervous or suffer from weak nerves find this month especially trying. Sultry heat and electrical disturbances of the atmosphere is probably the cause of this.

Invalids need to be particularly careful during the month of July to fortify the nervous system by the use of Peruna.

ASSIST NATURE.

You have been told to "hitch your wagon to a Star"—that Nature will assist you. That's all right. There are times, however, when you should assist Nature, and the spring in one of these times

Nature is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla the undertaking will be successful, and your complexion bright and clear.

Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefitted by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. Pale tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine wich, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

Humors feed on humors—the sooner you get rid of them the better—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take.

Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on

WINE OF CARDUI

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for seventy-five years. No more convincing proof can be given than the testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardui has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—that trouble which robs mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Development work has been in progress for the last six years, and more than 10,000 feet of shafts, drifts, levels and cuts have been completed and paid for by the owners.

Upwards of fifteen million tons of ore are now ready for the mill, all of which will be mined by open cuts at a nominal cost.

A contract has been entered into for the erection of a mill and cyanide plant capable of handling 1,000 tons of ore daily, which will be completed this year. The directors guarantee that the plant will be placed in operation, regardless of the amount of treasury stock subscribed.

The net profit after commencing operations will exceed $60,000 a month, and probably reach $100,000 a month, within a year. The ore in sight will supply such a plant for more than forty years.

The property is owned by the directors. There is no promotion stock or promotion money. No salaries to officers. Every dollar realized from the sale of stock goes into the treasury to pay for the plant. Not a share of stock has been offered for sale before.

Reports of J. Ralston Bell, London; Wm A. Farish, Denver; Emerson Gee, Denver; P. C. DuBois Berkeley, Cal.; J. L. Norton and others, all eminent mining engineers, precede the commencing this property.

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

In New York Fusionists Defeat Tammany—Republicans Make Gains Everywhere—Elections Pass off Quietly.

New York, Nov. 5.—Seth Low has been elected mayor of the city of New York by a plurality in round numbers of 28,000. William Travers Jerome, fusion, has defeated Henry W. Younger, Tammany, for district attorney of New York county by about 10,000 plurality. It is a sweeping victory for the fusionists in all the boroughs except Queens. The Tammany county ticket is fearfully and wonderfully scratched. The vote in round numbers for Low is 291,640; Shepard 263,540, Low over Shepard 28,092.

New York, Nov. 5.—Returns from New Jersey came in very slowly, but at midnight the returns pointed surely to the election of Franklin Murphy as governor by several thousand plurality. The Republicans have a safe majority in both branches of the legislature.

Richmond, Nov. 5.—Virginia has been carried by the Democratic gubernatorial ticket by a majority estimated at between thirty and forty thousand. A hundred and twenty-one members of the legislature were elected, and of these the Republicans secured ten or twelve. The negroes did not go to the polls at all in many parts of the state, and there will certainly be a great falling off the total vote cast.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Connecticut today had an election in every town and district in the state for delegates to the constitutional convention, and in two cities, Bridgeport and Ansonia, they also held citP elections. Of the 134 delegates chosen 110 are republicans, 43 democrats and 11 non-partisan, the latter being delegates endorsed by both republicans and democrats.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Governor Wm. Murray Crane and the entire Republican state ticket were re-elected today. Governor Crane's plurality is estimated at 65,000. Returns from 271 towns and 15 cities outside of Boston give Crane 104,163, Quincy 45,675.

Lincoln, Neb., Nav. 5.—One hundred precincts in Nebraska out of 1,600 give Sedgewick, Republican, for supreme judge, 10,677 Hellendeck, fusion 8,319. This indicates that Republicans carry the state by from 8,000 to 10,000.

Columbus, O, Nov. 5.—The early returns from the Ohio elections show Republican losses in parts of the state and gains elsewhere, insuring the re-election of Governor Nash over Col. James Kilbourne by a plurality reduced from that of two years ago, when Nash had 49,683 over McLean.

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Never in the history of local elections was there such a mix-up as in today's contest. Some of the Baltimore ballots will not be counted before sun-up.

At midnight indications were in favor of the Republicans in Baltimore. The first and second legisladistricts are extremely close, with the chances in favor of the Republicans. The latter are sure of the third.

Contrary to special expectations, the election was one of the quietest experienced here for a long time, though the interest in the outcome was intense. The new election law was being tested and this, together with the peculiar construction of a long ballot, made voting anything but an easy task.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 5.—Detailed reports with correct figures on county majorities are meagre at this hour, but on the face of the returns a Democratic legislature has been elected and Republican Senator W. J. Deboe will be succeeded by a Democrat.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—Returns of 75 of the 190 counties in Kentucky show a net gain of ten representatives and one senator for the Democrats. If the Republicans re-elect the rest of their representatives and senators the legislature will have 70 Democrats and 30 Republicans in the lower house and 27 Democrats and 11 Republicans in the Senate.

No External Symptoms.

The blood may be in bad condition, yet with no external signs, no skin eruption or sores to indicate it. The symptoms in such cases being a variable appetite, poor digestion, an indescribable weakness and nervousness, loss of flesh and a general run-down condition of the system—clearly showing the blood has lost its nutritive qualities, has become thin and watery. It is in just such cases that S. S. S. has done some of its quickest and most effective work by building up the blood and supplying the elements lacking to make it strong and vigorous.

"My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement. "We regard it a great tonic and blood purifier."—J. F. DUFF, Princeton, Mo.

SSS is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find the appetite improves at once, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. It contains no minerals whatever. Send for our free book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians for any information or advice wanted. No charge for medical advice.

Winter Courses at the A. & M. College.

The A. & M. College of North Carolina offers exceptional opportunities for education and training in agriculture and its allied branches. Beginning January 2, 1902, the College offers two courses for the young farmer and gardener, which extend through ten weeks, and give training of a particularly practical nature in the following subjects: dairying and creamery work, including milk testing, butter making and handling milk; stock raising; stock judging; breeds and breeding live stock; feeding farm animals; diseases of farm animals; dairy farming; winter gardening; care of boiler and engine; and eutomology etc. These courses are distinct from the regular four year and two year, and are complete in themselves; being intended for farmers who are unable to take the longer courses.

The tuition is entirely free, the only expense being five dollars for registration. Board and room can be obtained for $2.50 per week, making the total cost for the whole course but thirty dollars. No farmer, young or old, can afford to miss such an opportunity! No examinations for entrance are required, but the student should be at least 18 years old, and have a common school education. Any one can attend either of the courses; we have had several registered in these courses who were fifty years old. Any one interested should write for a circular of information, which is sent free, and which tells in detail what the course is intended to do. Farming will pay when the farmer is trained for his work. These courses will be a great help in making agriculture a success.

Any information in reference to the courses, in any way, can be obtained by addressing the Professor of Agriculture, Charles W. Burkett, West Raleigh, N. C.

Vagaries of a Cold.

You can never be quite sure where a cold is going to hit you. In the fall and winter it may settle in the bowels, producing severe pain. Do not be alarmed nor torment yourself with fears of appendicitis At the first sign of a cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm, sweetened water and relief comes at once. There is but one Painkiller Perry Davis'. 25 and 50 cents.

Heart Disease

retards the circulation, weakens the stomach, deranges digestion, pollutes the blood, destroys the nervous force and saps the vitality of the whole system. It causes pains in the side, palpitation, shortness of breath, smothering, dropsical swellings, sinking spells, and frequently ends all suffering in sudden death. Why tempt death when a cure is within easy reach?

"My head would get so hot it seemed to be burning up, while my feet were like ice. My limbs would swell and get numb. I had to sit in a chair day and night for months and my heart throbbed and pained me terribly. After using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I could do a good days work."

J. M. MACLAY, Shippensburg, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

never fails to relieve, and few cases are too severe for it to cure. Sold by druggists on guarantee.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

It is Easy to Say

"Be careful," but we must all go from heated houses into chill outer air, and the change sets us coughing and wheezing Avoiding winter colds is difficult; curing them is not hard if you take Allen's Lung Balsam. Better begin when the cold is young and not wait until it settles deep into the lungs, for then, even with Allen's Lung Balsam, complete relief will be slower.

Raleigh Business Directory.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor go where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated.—T. DeWitt Talmage.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF

DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

If a minister be invited to a wedding before any other arrangement be made it will prove unlucky.

To wed in May is to wed poverty.

It is unlucky to be married in May.

June and October are the most fortunate months to be married in.

The old Romans were especially attached to the month of June (the month of roses) for marriages.

Marry in May
And you'll rue the day;
Marry in June
Makes a joyous tune;
Wed in July
And luck is shy;
In August to wed
Makes few tears shed.

THE MOON.

If a maiden see three successive new moons she shall have her heart's desire.

It is unlucky to be married in the waning of the moon.

Look in the mirror at the first new moon in January. So many reflections seen, so many years will elapse before you are married.

Select a full moon for the day of marriage, or a conjunction of the sun and moon will answer.

The full moon is lucky for matrimony and other important events.

If you step over a mop handle you will never be married.

If the bride's mother appear at the wedding it will prove unlucky.—Scotch.

If you cut your nails on Whit Monday you will be unfortunate in love.

Whosoever obtains a pin used about the bride's wedding dress will be married within a year.

If the postman forget to leave the bride's mail and come back with it, it is unlucky for the bride.

It is a bad omen to receive a proposal of marriage on a railroad train, a horse car, or any public place.

To eat a quince together on entering the bridal chamber causes sweet and pleasant relations forever between the bridal pair.

The bride ate a quince or apple with her husband upon the evening of the wedding day to denote that every word henceforth proceeding from his mouth would be as grateful to her as the fruit.

For a bridegroom to have for his best man one who is no blood relation is unlucky.

ENGAGEMENT RING.

It is unlucky to alter the first width of an engagement ring.

It is unlucky to lose an engagement ring.

Those engaged with an emerald ring will never be married.

An engagement ring forged out of an old horseshoe will keep a lover faithful. The ring presented to the betrothed maiden should be an iron one.—Romans.

Among the Romans the betrothal, or wedding ring was placed on the right hand, and at the wedding transferred to the left.

The bride must be brought directly home by the usual road or will have no luck.

SALT.

For the bride to carry salt in her pocket insures good luck.

To insure prosperity the bridal pair must go to the altar with pinches of salt in their pockets.—Superstition in the Isle of Man.

It is quite unlucky for a bridal party to meet a serpent.

To avoid bad luck when she enters her husband's house for the first time, the bride must leap over a sleve and a pan of chop sticks.—Chinese.

Marriages on board ship are unlucky.

If the bridal pair are on the way to the bridegroom's house and meet a shepherd with his flock, the bride, to secure luck, must give the shepherd a fee.

SHOES.

If a bride tear her wedding shoes she will be beaten by her husband.

If a maiden, sleeping in a strange bed, places her shoes to form the letter T, she will dream of her future husband.

If a man presents shoes to his sweetheart she will run off with another man.

To dance the first reel at a wedding party with your shoes on is unlucky.

To propitiate the goddess Fortune, an old shoe should be be thrown toward the bridal pair as they start on the wedding tour.

Snow on the wedding prognosticates a happy marriage.

It is lucky for the bride to have a spider drop down on her at the wedding.

If a spinster, when the birds return in springtime, sees two wagtails together she will be married within the year.

If a stone roll toward the bridal pair when they are on their way to the church it is an evil omen.

If a girl see a sterk flying, on its first coming, she will ride in a bridal carriage.—Swedish.

To give one's sweetheart a brooch or pin is unlucky.

If the torches carried at a wedding burn dimly or go out it is a bad omen.

It is unlucky to hold a wedding after sunset.

A bride married after sunset will have a joyless life, lose her children, and die early,

TABLE.

If three unmarried persons with the same Christian name meet at table, one of the three will be married within the year.

It is unlucky for a betrothed pair to sit at table with a newly married couple.

Sit on the table and you will never be married.

To be seated inadvertently between a married couple at table means, if you are single, your marriage within a year.

If you desire to be married never look into the tea or coffee pot.

If you put cream into your cup before the sugar it will "cross your love."

For the bride to receive a telegram on her way to the church is unlucky.

The bride on entering her husband's house, was liften over the threshhold that she might escape touching any spell which some envious rival might have left there.—Ancient Romans.

No bride or groom should turn back after leaving home to be married.

When two sisters wed within the hour, good luck follows one, but the other will end her days in poverty.—Irish.

For the bride to save her wedding veil is very lucky.

To throw nuts after the bridal pair implied a wish that the bride might become a matron like Juno, Queen of the Gods.—Ancient Romans.

The Home in the South.

Escape the rigors of another Northern Winter and enjoy the delights of the Southland.

Nowhere can be found a more delightful climate than in our own Southland. Its winters are mild and balmy and in the most cases summer does not bring with it such extremes of heat as are to be found elsewhere. In fact, the South is a land where extremes of climate are avoided, and consequently, is a healthful and altogether desirable location.

The tide of emigration has turned Southward, for it is not alone in climatic advantages that this favored land excels, but its resources, the fertility of its soil and its mineral wealth and abundant water power commend it to the thoughtful consideration of any one who seeks a home where Northern thieft and enterprise may carve out success.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

An Important Announcement.

We desire to call the personal and immediate attention of each and every one of our readers to the exceptional terms upon which we are prepared to offer the representative journal of Agriculture, Farm and Home, in connection with this paper. Everywhere throughout the country Farm & Home is known and recognized as a journal of the highest standard. Its sound common sense, practical teachings, terse paragraphs, originality and pluck have won for it a place at the head of the agricultural press Its immense circulation, exceeding 300,000 copies each issue, is in itself a telling testimonial of its practical value and intrinsic worth. Our subscribers will do well to read the announcement and avail themselves of an opportunity to secure, at a trifling cost, a paper which will return them a thousand per cent on the investment in the useful hints and teachings to be obtained from its perusal. To all we say, try Farm and Home a year, and you will never regret it. A copy of Homemade Contrivances, a most useful book, containing 950 illustrations, is included with each subscription.

IS YOUR HEALTH VALUABLE?

Disease is always a handicap; it unfits men for business and pleasure—sometimes temporarily, often permanently. Life is a continuous struggle, and the man or woman afflicted with a Chronic Disease is outclassed at every turn. In this age of sharp competition, no man can hope to be successful unless sound in mind and body.

DR. HATHAWAY.

During my long career as a specialist, I have seen thousands who are carrying around some obstinate chronic disease as a burdensome companion, which they could easily rid themselves of by the proper treatment. Any honest physician will tell you that these diseases are stubborn and obdurate, and a special knowledge is required to treat them successfully. My special fitness for treating Chronic Diseases has been acquired by twenty years of close application, devoted exclusively to their study and treatment. I have treated more cases than any other physician in the United States, and I thoroughly understand just what is required in each case My specialty includes all chronic diseases, such as Stricture, Varicocele, Blood and Skin Disease, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, Diseases of Women, etc., and my original method of treatment has proven successful in even the most obstinate cases.

I CAN CURE YOU AT HOME.

I have perfected a system of home treatment which enables me to cure you at your own home, as I have thousands of others. Write me fully about your case, and send for complete symptom blanks. Correspondence confidential. Address J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M.D.

Some wives miss their husbands when away—and some miss them at home because their aim isn't accurate.

Men can be cured privately and positively at home of all weakness and disease. Write for new free book to Dr. J. N. Hathaway, 22½ S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. t.

Dr. E. Detchon's Anti Diuretic.

May be worth to you more than $100 if you have a child who soils bedding from incontenence of water during sleep. Cures old and young alike. It arrests the trouble at once. $1. Sold by Henry T. Hicks, Druggist.

R·I·P·A·N·S FOR DELICATE LITTLE BOYS.

"My little boy, age six years, has been troubled from infancy with constipation and RIPANS have done him more good than any other medicine I have ever given him. If upon getting up in the morning I notice him having a bad breath, or if he gets peevish, out of sorts, etc., a RIPANS quickly puts his stomach and bowels in excellent condition. I was myself much troubled with indigestion for a long time and RIPANS completely cured me. I cannot give RIPANS enough praise, but speak a good word for them whenever the opportunity is afforded me to do so. — MRS. VIOLA SPRNGER, Glassboro, Gloucester Co., New Jersey, Jan'y 7, 1901."

There is scarcely any condition of ill-health that is not benefited by the occasional use of a R.I.P.A.N.S Tabule, and the price, 10 for 5 cents, does not bar them from any home or justify any one in enduring ills that are easily cured. For sale by Druggists.

R·I·P·A·N·S

Humors,

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

Reasons Why you Should Insure in the Manhattan Life

Its business is confined strictly to the most healthy portions of the United States, thus its policyholders constitute what you might call a preferred class.

It is one of the strongest companies in the World, and its assets are big enough—$16,367,636.00—all gilt edged, and are invested entirely in America, thus receiving the constant care and attention of the officers of the company.

It is an American company, amenable only to our own laws and not subject to the dictation of various foreign governments.

It is not a racer for new business, the watch words of the company being, Strength, Solidity and Security.

Its policies are simple, clean, straightforward contracts

Its management has been practically the same for a quarter of a century.

It has paid its policyholders since organization over $45,000,000.00.

We judge a company as we do a man. What are its morals? When other companies deserted the Southern Policy-holder, and used bot the money he had contributed towards their success, and their influenc to destroy him, the Manhattan stayed firm as a rock—"Justice' wa their motto. See what a distinguished Statesman of Georgia says:

STATE OF GEORGIA,

Treasury Department.

Atlanta, Ga., May 12, 1891.

Why Mr. Hardeman had a policy in the MANHATTAN LIFE.

Maj. Jos. H. Morgan, Special Agt. Atlanta.

Dear Sir:—As agent of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company of New York, it affords me pleasure to say to you that my father was insured in your company, and by reason of the late war, he was unable to reach your company and pay his premiums as they fell due; and that after the cessation of hostilities, my father having died during the war, your company have paid to my mother the amount of his policy, less the amount of premium unpaid Yours Truly, (Signed) R. U. HARDEMAN, State Treaturer.

And this was not an isolated case by no means

So soon as the civil war was over the Manhattan announced that the company was ready to communicate with the old policyholders, inviting them to reinstate their policies, making one condition only, that the policyholders should be in good health.

Such an act of generosity was unthought of by any other company or corporation.

Knowing that their Southern policyholders were, most of them, men who had made every sacrific possible for the land that they loved, and that had been reduced from affluence to poverty, they offered, in lieu of ready money to accept a note covering the entire premium during the time that payments had lapsed. In addition to that they placed these policies on the same footing of other policies of the same date, in regard to dividends and and annuities.

The company went even further; In cases where the insurer was unable to comply with these very liberal terms, or did not care to renew the policy during these troublesome times, the Manhattan agreed to pay the purchase value of the policy as it stood on the date of the lapse from the non-payment of premiums

Although the Manhattan has made no boast of this act of generosity, which was not followed by other Northern Companies, "on the ground that the disloyalty of Southern policyholders vitiated their contracts," still it remains on record that the Manhattan was true and steadfast, honest and equitable, when all others forsook the old soldiers in the time of their direst necessity.
